EVERY YELLOW MIMOSA TREE

such as ginkgo trees. Since moving here I've plotted a map of every yellow mimosa tree in the city for when they flower between late January and April. I gatekeep it because I worked hard to find them all, but the biggest one I've discovered is a giant, fluffy thing in Regent's Park. When you get to Queen Mary's Gardens, you'll be able to smell it. Another very beautiful one is on the corner of Lupus
